BEING A STOFF IN 14 POINTS

Student Officers are the essential part of MUN conferences; therefore, we wanted to learn what being a Student Officer means in 14 points. So we asked Defne Sakaoglu, one of the deputy chairs in the Political Committee about being a StOff in RCIMUN'21.

- Being an expert on the issue

You need to be an expert if you are a StOff, because you are the leader of the committee and have to answer the questions of the delegates related to the agenda items.

- Giving comfort to delegates

One of the duties of the StOff is helping delegates to feel comfortable, and provide a safe and comfortable ambiance for debate.

- Leadership

As you know, the StOff leads and manages the committee so it is extremely important that Student officers are great leaders.

- Time Management

The StOff has to manage the time effectively because their instructions are important for the conference, and they are responsible for the time.

- Making Friends

Being friends with the delegates, co-chairs, other StOff members, and even exec members... The possibilities are endless.

- Critical Thinking

When you are a StOff, you need to think quickly in the time of crises to not hinder the committee.

- Energy

As far as the StOff manages and leads the conference, they need to be energetic and joyful.

BEING A STOFF IN 14 POINTS

- Solving misunderstandings

One of the duties of the Student Officers is solving misunderstandings because there might be misunderstandings between delegates and it might affect the conference's going.

- Patience

When you are a StOff, you have to solve the problems and help the delegates. This might not be very entertaining sometimes, that's the reason you have to be patient when you are a StOff in MUN.

- Communicating skills

The StOffs need to be in communication with everyone to ensure a smooth running of the committee. This includes giving feedback to the executive board, constantly messaging the other Student Officers, and much more.

- Being a role model

This point is also about being the leader of the committee. When you are a StOff you need to be an example for the delegates as you are someone that they look up to.

- Being disciplined

Being disciplined is a skill that you gain and you should have when being a StOff because you have to manage and lead the delegates, and you can't do it without discipline.

- Learning to deal with every type of personality

When you are a StOff, you need to learn to deal with everyone because you have to deal with the delegates and encourage them, but everyone is different. So you need to know how to behave to the person according to their personality.

- Team Work

Since there are three StOff Members in each committee, you have to learn being a team.

INTERVIEW WITH MARCUS ANTONIUS

Can you introduce yourself as your character?

First of all, how dare you not know who I am? I am Marcus Antonius, the Roman politician, and the general who will defeat Populares.

Can you explain the Great Roman Civil War and why is it happening?

Of course, I can. Our leader, the leader of the Populares, Caesar was gaining influence over the region. His purpose was to improve the power, prosperity, and might of the Roman Empire. On the other hand, the Senate didn't like this idea very much. They were scared that Caesar would take their place and they would become nothingness in history compared to Caesar. So they told Caesar to abandon his powers and his influence. Well, as you can imagine, Caesar refused to give up and offered the Senate "Okay, let's have a peace treaty. I don't want no fight." However, these selfish people refused. So here we are now. Take my word, we shall defeat the Senate because they are arrogant and selfish their arrogance will be their end!

INTERVIEW WITH MARCUS ANTONIUS

What is your importance/duty in The Great Roman Civil War?

I already told you! I am the general and the politician of Populares. I am one of the most important, hell the most important figure after Caesar because I have great authority. My name will be written in history books across all the world. From Rome to Istakhr.

Since you have completed the first day in the war, can you tell us what is going on?

Well, we are planning to take the legions to our side. There are legions brainwashed by the Senate. For example, the 15th legion was strained, and were told it was because of Caesar when really the rules of Caesar never mentioned such thing. So now, we are trying to unite our troops and military to abolish Pompeius. Lastly, don't you dare tell ruin the confidentiality of this conversation or there will be dire consequences!

Do you think that your side will be able to win the war?

I beg your pardon, of course, we will win. With ease! We have now discovered that Pompeius is actually a pedophile and is a conservative.

The people want to secure their tradition here, they want someone to trust. Now that someone is us, they believe and trust us. We will win this war as the people are on our side and the people's support is the only thing needed to win such a conflict.
